Learned counsel for the petitioner refers to Annexure P-2 and submits that on 11.01.2024, prior to the date of incident, he was relieved and the relieving letter clearly indicates that the petitioner has performed his duties diligently and responsibly and further it is not discernible from the case set up by the prosecution as to how the iron beams weighing to the extent of 70 tonnes were taken out by the co-accused in connivance with the petitioner and further there is nothing on record to show that the petitioner was the custodian of these iron beams lying in the yard of Bridge & Roof Company (India) Limited and maximum* *sentence provided for which the FIR (supra) has been registered is upto 07 years and the petitioner was granted the concession of ad interim anticipatory bail by the learned Additional Sessions Judge, Karnal, however, the same was dismissed on the ground that the petitioner is not cooperating in the investigation and further the custodial interrogation of the petitioner is not required as one of the coaccused – Satish has already been arrested by the jurisdictional police authorities and his police remand was taken and as such, the petitioner is entitled to anticipatory bail in view of the directions issued by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Md. Asfak Alam v. State of Jharkhand and another 2023 (3) R.C.R(Criminal) 754.

Per contra, learned counsel for the State assisted by learned counsel for the complainant has vehemently opposes the prayer made by learned counsel for the petitioner on the ground that huge quantity of iron beams valued at Rs.70 lacs has been taken away by the petitioner in connivance with the other accused and the custodial interrogation of the petitioner is required to ascertain the modus operandi.
