Claim of the petitioner for inter district transfer has been considered and rejected vide order dated 25.11.2013, in compliance of the orders dated 31.7.2012, passed by this Court in CWP-14452-2012.

Counsel for the petitioner submits that there are vacant posts available in District Rohtak as such, his claim has been wrongly rejected vide Annexure R3.

I have considered the contention of the learned counsel for the petitioner and carefully gone through the record. The only direction given by this Court vide order dated 31.7.2012 was that the respondent was required to pass speaking order. The order Annexure R3 has already been passed. The petitioner is at liberty to challenge the order Annexure R3, for inter district transfer. Besides enforcing his legal right, the petitioner has also got remedy to make a request to the authorities to make a place for the petitioner in District Rohtak, taking into consideration his peculiar circumstances.

So far as the present contempt petition is concerned, there being no willful disobedience of the order except the delay in considering the claim of the petitioner, this petition is dismissed. However, for the inconvenience caused to the petitioner, he is entitled to costs of ₹5,000/- to be paid by the State within one month.
