

IN THE HIGH COURT OF PUNJAB AND HARYANA AT CHANDIGARH

COCP No.1608 of 2013

Date of Decision :21.4.2014

Narinder Singh

....Petitioner

Versus

Raj Kamal Chaudhary and another

...Respondents

CORAM : HON'BLE MR.JUSTICE MAHESH GROVER

....

Present: Mr. Tarsem Singh, Advocate for the petitioner.

Mr. MC Berry, Addl.AG, Punjab.

.....

MAHESH GROVER.J.

Reply has been filed which would indicate that the entire payment due to the petitioner has been made except gratuity and some part of the pension which has been withheld on account of pendency of a criminal case against him.

If the order, the non-compliance of which has been alleged by the petitioner is to be seen, then it mandated the respondents to decide the legal notice submitted by him.

Having regard to the aforesaid,when the legal notice stands decided and substantial payment made to the petitioner, the instant petition is disposed of as having become infructuous with liberty to the petitioner to his remedies in law.
